Subjective

- Subjective

Service Type: 99231 Hosp care 15 min low complexity

Subjective:

The patient remains paranoid and delusional, complaining of plumbing and electrical code violations and other litigious concerns. I try to learn more about his housing situation but he will only state that he is not incompetent and this is none of my business. "My brother is wiring me $10,000 from California and that will solve the problem." He refuses to consent to staff contacting his brother for collateral information and becomes quite hostile as the interview proceeds. "Look, I am a computer programmer and I don't have to answer to you. Are you even a doctor?" He rants that he is a victim of persecution from an international hacking organization called the "Black Hat Crackers" and they have been involved in his removal from his apartment here in Ithaca as well as a number of hotels and short-stay residences thereafter. The patient storms away after this and refuses to answer anymore questions.
