Recommended:

- 1) under medical supervision,
safe abstinence from all mood-altering chemicals.
Once de-toxed could best be assessed for mood disorder
- 2) Complete physical including blood work, liver
panel, urinalysis
- 3) food plan, possible nutritionist
- 4) lifestyle changes to support above
- 5) need for medically monitored program
- 6) possible inpatient program
- 7) I'd be willing to refer to ACTC + to ask Dr. Ballard to speak to him

Shared w Bonze his issues/addiction were too complex for me on out patient basis. He needed a program, and medical supervision.

Bonze wants to see Dr. Stackman. Complains of neurological symptoms.

I spoke to him re ACTC services.

Ended session after Bonze told me he smoked a j. I ended asking client to seek medical att'n.

Dear Amari: [CHUMMY HUH? - BARB]

I recommend the following for Kevin Eric Saunders, as part of a drug assessment:

1) Working toward abstinence from marijuana, alcohol, all mood-altering chemicals. This will allow for more accurate evaluation of any underlying diagnoses. Because Kevin has a probable mood disorder, this process will be more safely done under medical supervision.

2) a general physical, including blood chemistry and urinalysis.

3) proper nutrition

4) lifestyle changes to support above.

5) Support for these changes. This could include continuation of treatment at Family & Children's Services for dysthymia, continued assessment, education, treatment for drug issues at Alcoholism Council here, individual/group treatment for drug addiction, self-help groups.

6) Referral to the Alcoholism Council of Tompkins County for continued assessment and medical consultation for Kevin's complex, chronic concerns. I am willing to initiate this process with Kevin's agreement to proceed.

7) Possible hospital-based, in-patient dual diagnosis program if Kevin continues to be unable, or too ill to initiate, follow through with these recommendations. Initial referral could be made for Kevin's mood disorder. Two suggestions are Elmira's St. Joseph's Behavioral Science Unit, or Binghamton General Hospital. Both hospitals have substance abuse programs, too.

Diagnosis for Kevin is:
Cannabis Dependence 304.30
Alcohol Abuse 305.00

Kevin did not agree to the above except for the necessity of medical help. He had shared with me that just previous to discussion of these recommendations made on 1/17/97, he had smoked pot.

I hope the above is helpful. Please call if there are questions.

Sincerely,
Fran Markover, CSW, CAC, NCACII
